

WEBINAR: FLICKR FOR LIBRARIANS

Led by Nicole Engard

Friday, April 16, 2010

10:00 am – 12:00 pm (2 CEU hours)

Cost: $10

Pictures are everywhere; we see pictures of people in ads, magazines, and business websites, but not very often on library websites.

Including photos from library events and of the library staff helps give the library a more human feel. Flickr is an online photo-sharing site that can help you store your library images and publish them to your site. This workshop will walk you through signing up for Flickr, uploading images, managing images with sets and collections, tagging images, mapping your photos and much more. By the end of this session you'll be ready to sign up for a Flickr account for you library and start sharing pictures.

About the Presenter: Nicole C. Engard is Director of Open Source Education at ByWater Solutions. Nicole has been published in several library journals and keeps the library community up to date on web technologies via her website "What I Learned Today..." (www.web2learning.net). In 2007, Nicole was named one of Library Journal's Movers & Shakers.
